

Where they had support

This Allen County map illustrates precinct-by-precinct which presidential candidate had more votes in Tuesday's election. The darker the shade, the bigger the margin of victory for the candidate. John McCain had the largest margin of victory in the south precinct of Leo-Cedarville and Barack Obama had the largest margin of victory in Precinct 654 in southeast Fort Wayne.

John McCain received more votes in red precincts.

Barack Obama received more votes in blue precincts.
